

HUGE STAR: Mandy Winters as Dolly Parton at Aberdeen Arts Centre, Photograph: Colin Fennie

Dolly Mixtures a sweet treat for crowd

HUGE STAR: Mandy Winters as Dolly Parton at Aberdeen Arts Centre. Photograph: Colin Rennie

Dolly Mixtures a sweet treat for crowd

TRIBUTE TO COUNTRY AND WESTERN STAR A SELL-OUT AT ARTS CENTRE

COUNTRY and western was on the bill last night in the Granite City as the hit songs of one of the world's most famous singers were re-enacted in an impressive stage show.

The Dolly Parton Story

rolled into town, with Mandy Winters and her Dolly Mixtures, the UK's leading tribute act to the country star, wowing the sold-out crowd at the Aberdeen Arts Centre.

Last night marked the last

Scottish date in a tour which visited Kirkcaldy on Saturday and Pitlochry on Sunday.

The two-and-a-half-hour production not only showcased Parton classics like Nine to Five, Jolene and Love Is Like

A Butterfly, but also told the story of the singer's hard upbringing in Tennessee in the USA. Some fans last night donned cowboy hats and boots, blonde wigs and checked shirts in her honour.